And where, good men, is the harm in the kindness and bluntness to health, and true love and sympathy? It is only when the health has been the worst of all diseases of youth that death looks upon its lips. The deadly germs of dread consumption are as harmless as June-time butterflies to the young man or woman who is thoroughly clean, sweet and healthy in every fiber and tissue. The germs of disease only attack that which is already partly decayed.
 There is a great medicine that is a sure and certain protection against all germs and a speedy cure for all germ diseases.
 It is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.
 It gives youthful zest to the appetite.
 It corrects all faults of the digestion, and the vital, life-giving elements of the food.
 It builds perfect, healthy tissue in every part of the body. It drives out all disease germs. It cures 99 per cent. of all cases of bronchitis, throat and lung diseases taken in time. All good medicine dealers sell it, and have nothing "just as good."

The Country Clergyman.
 An old clergyman who had held a cure in the depths of the country for the greater part of his life had occasion to consult his bishop on a certain matter, and, in answer to his letter, received an invitation to sleep the night at the palace. For 40 or 50 years he had practically led the life of a recluse, and it was after many cogitations that he decided to take the journey to the other end of the diocese, where the bishop lived. He arrived just in time for 5 o'clock tea, a meal to which he was a complete stranger.

After tea the bishop asked him to accompany him to evening. When they returned to the house, the bishop remarking that it was quite time they went up stairs, lit a candle and showed his guest to his room. It was then just 7 o'clock, and, though the old clergyman thought it was rather early to retire, still, admiring the bishop for such simple habits, he prepared for bed. He had just put out the light and lain down to sleep, wishing he had drunk a little more tea, when a booming noise rang through the house and smoke upon his ear.

Quick as thought he sprang from his bed, shouting "Fire!" at the top of his voice, rushed out to the landing just in time to meet the bishop, with a lady on his arm, going down to dinner.
 The sequel to the story has never been divulged.—Cornhill Magazine.

A Last Opportunity.
 It was near one of the large railroad stations. A man rather advanced in years, whose old fashioned attire and open mouthed wonderment proclaimed that he was a visitor from the rural districts and not accustomed to the everyday sights of a large city, was suddenly accosted by a sharp visaged youth with "Mister, yer dropped yer wallet." As he spoke he held forth a large wallet well stuffed with old revenue stamps covered with a couple of dollar bills.
 Uncle Rube looked at the precocious bairn of the wallet with equally protruding eyes, hesitated just one moment, and then, his cupidly evidently getting the better of him, reached for it.
 "Hold on; give us a tinner first," exclaimed the power of the wallet.
 The old man quickly put his hand in his trouser pocket, but, after a moment, drawing forth his empty hand, he drawled out: "Take it out o' the wallet."

The youth, closing the wallet with a concealed disgust, turned on his heel and hurried off. The stranger in town looked after the youth a moment, and then, muttering "God dem! Missed it as 'in. I told 'em I'd need more'n 'em," he resumed his peaceful way.—Philadelphia Record.

Leaving It to the Jury.
 A story is told of a judge who up to his death sat on the crown side on the South Wales circuit. Counsel for the defense once asked leave to address the jury in Welsh, and, the case being a simple one, permission was given without demur. He said that very few words; the judge also did not think much comment was necessary, but was somewhat startled by a prompt verdict of acquittal.
 "What was it," he afterward inquired, "that counsel said to the jury?"
 "Oh, he just said: 'This case, gentlemen, lies in a nutshell. You see yourselves exactly how it stands. The judge is an Englishman, the prosecuting counsel is an Englishman, the complainant is an Englishman. But you are Welsh, and I am Welsh, and the prisoner is Welsh. Need I say more? I leave it all to you.'"

The judge did not allow the experiment to be repeated of addresses to the jury in a vernacular which he did not understand.—London Mail.

The Floating Quachan.
 A personal glimpse into the mind of the negro's skin, a story telling in question the nice conduct of the passenger's class, and their two savages flanking at the mouth, their position swayed round their arms, their bodies bent so as to protect their vitals and their knives quivering like snakes stood in the middle of the room. The company withdrew themselves into the smallest space, stood on the tops of masks, and at the door the faces of the women looked in delight, while the passengers, with a pistol and a bottle in his hands, closed down his grating and was ready for whatever might befall. "Negro," "Abi-jante," "Miente," "carajo," and the knives flash and send out sparks as the returns de la su tao jar the fighters arms up to the shoulder joints. In a moment all is over, and from the pas-senger's right arm the blood drops in a stream on the mud floor, and all the company stop and say the negro is a "valiente," "my goodness," and the two adversaries ever friendship over a tin mug of gin.—Saturday Review.

One Woman's War.
 "Speaking of women with saving dispositions," said Dianthy, "my wife is in a class all by herself."
 "How so?" queried his friend Rojas.
 "Last week I bought an upright piano," replied Dianthy, "and my wife made a beautiful green plush cover for it, so the piano wouldn't get scratched."
 "Confound the music making cover of linen to go over the plush to prevent that from getting soiled. Next week I suppose she'll make a calico cover to protect the linen. Oh, I tell you, women have great big fertile minds."—Chicago News.

An Easy Promise.
 In her heart love and duty strove for mastery, and duty won.
 "No man shall wed me," she exclaimed, with softened eyes and quivering lips, "who does not promise me that he is ever president of the United States; he will use his influence to have battleships christened with water!"

Such was the order of his passion that Algeron hesitated not a moment "I promise!" he cried, and fell upon his knees.—Detroit Journal.

THE FIRST BABY.
 Its Coming is Looked Forward to With Both Joy and Fear and its Safe Arrival is Hailed With Pride and Delight by All.

The arrival of the first baby in the household is the happiest and most important event of married life. The young wife who is to become a mother delights to think of the happiness in store for her when the little one shall nestle upon her breast and later she shall hear it lip the sweet and holy name, "mother." But her happy anticipation quickly vanishes when she realizes the terrible pain and suffering through which she must pass while bringing the little one into the world. An indescribable fear of the danger attendant upon the ordeal soon dispels her joy.

Thousands of women have learned by experience that there is absolutely no necessity for the sufferings which attend childbirth; they know that by the use of "Mother's Friend," a selected medicine for a few weeks before the trying hour, expectant mothers can so prepare themselves for the final hour that the pain and suffering of the dreaded event are entirely obviated and it is safely passed through with comparatively little discomfort.
 All women are interested, and especially expectant mothers who for the first time have to undergo this trial. It is a remedy for they know the pain and suffering, to say nothing of the danger, which is in store for them. "Mother's Friend" is woman's greatest blessing, for it takes her safely through the severest ordeal of her life. Every woman should be glad to read the little book "Before Baby is Born," which contains information of great value to all. It will be sent free to any one who sends their address to The Bradford Regulator Co., Atlanta, Ga.

 "Before Baby is Born." Every woman looks forward with feelings of indescribable joy to the one momentous event in her life, compared with which all other joys are insignificant. How proud and happy she will be when her precious babe nestles on her breast—how sweet the name of "Mother!" And yet her happy anticipation of this event is clouded with misgivings of the pain and danger of the ordeal, so that it is impossible to avoid the feeling of constant dread which creeps over her. The danger and suffering attendant upon being a mother can be entirely reversed, so that the coming of the little stranger need not be looked forward to with fear and trembling, as is so often the case. Every woman who reads this paper can obtain absolutely free a valuable and attractive little book entitled "Before Baby is Born," by sending her name and address to the Bradford Regulator company, Atlanta, Ga. This book contains precious information to all women, and no one should fail to send for it.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it to be a constitutional disease, and therefore required constitutional treatment.
 Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F.
 J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market.
 It is taken internally in doses from two drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address, madam, you should have thought of that before you had him taken."

Household Words.

The death penalty is rarely enforced in Germany, Austria, Denmark or Sweden. In New York 11 out of 15 murderers escape without any punishment, and in the United States only one murderer in 20 suffers capital punishment.
